

I Met a Me

I met a girl

With green eyes and a culture richer than her one million dollar smile,
She welcomed me into her house, we ate authentic food and chatted for hours.

I found an ally

In a boy whose smart enough to solve the world's problems,
He helped me in school, we got into harmless trouble afterwards.

I sat next to a friend

With unwavering values, she knew exactly who she was,
She showed me what being a real friend meant.

I laughed with a buddy

Whose spirit was a wild and free as the wind
She made me crack up with laughter over and over again.

I studied with a classmate

Who looked at life with a different perspective
She told me stories, I was never bored.

I found myself in a girl, an ally, a friend, a buddy and a classmate.

We stick together, because we know that we are going places.
